Sent by: Wade Harrell

Dear House Agriculture, Livestock, & Water Committee:

Section 24-4-103 (8)(e), C.R.S., requires the Office of Legislative Legal Services (OLLS) to notify the current members of the applicable committees of reference when an executive branch agency adopts rules in response to the passage of newly enacted legislation. This committee notice is sent to the committees of reference that heard the legislation.

To carry out this function, the OLLS has compiled a Table of Rules Related to Newly Adopted Legislation which is located on the OLLS website on the page relating to Rule Review. This Table is organized by committees of reference. If you click this link, it will take you to the portion of the table that relates to the House Agriculture, Livestock, & Water Committee of which you are currently a member. The Table provides the SOS Tracking Number and the OLLS Docket No for the Rules; the Bill Number and the Long Title of the Bill; the Department that promulgated the rules; the division, board, unit or official that promulgated the rules; the CCR cite in the Code of Colorado Regulations; and the date the rules were adopted. If you are interested in looking at the rules that were adopted to implement a particular bill that your committee heard, click on the SOS Tracking # in the first column of the Table. This will take you directly to the rule submittal that the agency submitted to the Secretary of State's office for publication in the Code of Colorado Regulations.

We are providing this link to the entire table so, if you are interested, you may also look at bills that were heard by other committees of reference for which state agencies have adopted implementing legislation. <https://leg.colorado.gov/agencies/office-legislative-legal-services/2020-table-rules-related-newly-adopted-legislation>

It is our intent that OLLS will send this type of e-mail out annually every January to the committees of reference. As required by § 24-4-103 (8)(e), C.R.S., OLLS also sends out individual e-mails to the bill's prime sponsors and co-sponsors as rules are submitted that implement newly enacted legislation. If you have served previously in the General Assembly, you should have received some of these e-mails.

Please be aware as you are looking at the rules that the agency may have adopted other changes to the rules that are not directly related to the specific legislation that was adopted or that the agency may adopt rules in the future that revise or further implement the legislation.

Through our ongoing rule review process, the staff in the OLLS reviews the rules to determine if the rules are consistent with the statutory authority of the agency and brings any issues we find to the attention of the Committee on Legal Services.

Please contact Jennifer.Berman@state.co.us in the Office of Legislative Legal Services if you have any questions or need more information.
